

REQUEST FOR ORDER
 EX PARTE / EMERGENCY

We must EMPHASIZE that ex parte hearings are for EMERGENCIES ONLY. Generally, an emergency is when there is or likely will be “blood on the floor.” This means that there is actual harm taking place or it is likely that if the court does not make an emergency order there will be harm.

1	Get Ex-Parte Date	Obtain an ex-parte date from the Family Law Clerk by going to the courthouse or by calling (805) 706-3600 option 4.
2	Complete Ex-Parte Forms & Make 4 Copies	<input type="checkbox"/> FL-305 Temporary Emergency (Ex Parte) Orders <input type="checkbox"/> FL-300 Request for Order <input type="checkbox"/> FL-311 Child Custody and Visitation Application Attachment <input type="checkbox"/> MC-025 Attachment to Judicial Council Form <input type="checkbox"/> FL-303 Decl Re: Notice and Service of Request for Temp Emergency Orders <input type="checkbox"/> FL013 Statement of Venue (SLO form) (only if not previously completed) <input type="checkbox"/> FL-330 Proof of Personal Service <input type="checkbox"/> FL-320 Responsive Declaration (leave blank) If there are child support or spousal support issues you may also need: <input type="checkbox"/> FL-150 Income and Expense Declaration <input type="checkbox"/> FLF form Declaration Regarding Family Law Policies and Procedures §2:8 Once you complete the documents, it should be clear to the judge what orders you are requesting and most importantly all the reasons you are asking for those orders. If you would like the Self-Help Center / Family Law Facilitator's Office to review your forms before you file, then do not make copies until after the Center has reviewed your documents. When your original documents are complete, you should make 4 copies. One copy is for your records; one copy is to serve on the other party; and two copies must be turned into the Clerk’s Office along with the originals.
3	Call Opposing Party by 10:00 a.m. the day before your Ex-Parte date	Call the opposing party by 10:00 a.m. the court day before the ex-parte date and tell him/her that the judge in your family law case will be deciding whether to grant some emergency orders on _____ (date) at 8:00 a.m. in department number _____ (department). Also tell the opposing party what emergency orders you are requesting.
4	Complete Declaration of Notice on Emergency Application for Orders	Complete the FL-303 Declaration Re: Notice and Service of Request for Temp Emergency Orders. Fill in the appropriate blanks, date and sign. Make 2 copies of the completed form.
5	File the Completed Ex-Parte forms & Declaration Re: Notice by 12:00 noon the day before your Ex-Parte date	By 12:00 noon the court day before the Ex-Parte date, take the following documents to the Family Law Clerk’s Office: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • original completed Ex-Parte Request for Order forms and 2 copies • original completed Declaration of Notice on Emergency Application for Orders and 2 copies
6	Personally give a copy of the forms to the Opposing Party before 4:00 pm the court day before the Ex-Parte date	Before 4:00 p.m. the court day before the Ex-Parte date, someone other than you who is 18 years or older, must give the opposing party a copy of all the completed Ex-Parte Request for Order forms including a blank FL-320 Responsive Declaration. Whoever gives the forms to the opposing party must complete, date and sign the FL-330 Proof of Personal Service. Do not ask the Sheriff’s Office to deliver the documents because they will not be able to deliver the documents in a timely manner before the Ex-Parte date.

7	File the completed Proof of Service by 4:00 pm the court day before the Ex-Parte date	By 4:00 p.m. the court day before the Ex-Parte date, you must file the original FL-330 Proof of Personal Service with the Family Law Clerk's Office. If personal service is accomplished before 12:00 noon the day before the Ex-Parte date, then you may file the FL-330 Proof of Service at the same time as the other documents listed in Step 5 above.
8	After 10:30 a.m. the day of your Ex-Parte Date, pick up your court forms	After 10:30 a.m. on the day of your Ex-Parte date, pick up from the Family Law Clerk's Office 2 copies of your Request for Order forms. At this time, you will know if the judge granted or denied your emergency order request.
9	Serve the Opposing Party with the Ex-Parte forms	Someone other than you, who is 18 years or older, must personally deliver to the opposing party a copy of the Request for Order forms filed with the Court in addition to a blank FL-320 Responsive Declaration. The other party must be given these documents at least 16 court days before the hearing date. Whoever gives the forms to the opposing party must complete, date and sign the FL-330 Proof of Personal Service. If you are having the Sheriff personally deliver the forms, then they will need two copies and they will have their own proof of service form.
10	File the Proof of Service with the Family Law Clerk	You must file the original FL-330 Proof of Personal Service with the Family Law Clerk's Office as soon as it is completed.
11	Go to court on day of your hearing	Arrive at least 15 minutes early. When the judge first calls your name, tell the judge how much time you expect your case to take. When your case is called for the hearing part, the judge may rely upon the written declaration each party filed, however the judge may want to ask either party more questions.
12	Prepare the court order	The judge will generally grant or deny your request at the end of your hearing. You will then need to prepare a Findings and Order After Hearing for the judge to sign. To do this, wait 10 days after your hearing, then visit the Family Law Clerk's Office and ask for a copy of the minute order. There will be a small charge. The Self-Help Center Family Law Facilitator's Office can help you prepare the order.

Ex Parte requests are for emergencies only. You cannot use the ex parte procedure to ask for an expedited support order or to ask for an order that the other side pay the car loan or other similar requests. While those issues may seem like an emergency to you, the court may not be able to make orders about these issues on an emergency basis.

Examples of emergencies are:

- The other parent has taken the child, threatened that he/she will leave the state and hide, and you actually believe that they will do so. You need an ex parte order that returns the child to you and prevents him from leaving the area with the child.
- Your child needs emergency medical treatment that requires both parents' consent and the other side refuses to give consent. You need an ex parte order that allows you to have the authority to give consent.
- The other parent has just been charged with child abuse or child molestation of your child, and there is a visitation order in effect that allows visitation for the coming weekend. You need an ex parte order that prevents visitation pending a full hearing.

Unless there is a showing of immediate harm to the child or immediate risk that the child will be removed from the State of California, the judge may properly deny your request. The Court may also note in your case file that you filed an unnecessary ex parte.

THE DECLARATION IS AN IMPORTANT PART OF YOUR PAPERWORK:

The declaration is an important part of your case. The judge can make a decision regarding your emergency request, solely based on what you have stated in your declaration. If you are requesting emergency ex parte orders, your declaration must explain what the emergency is. Your declaration must explain all the reasons the court should grant the orders you are requesting. Your declaration is a persuasive document that provides the judge as much detail as you can give. Remember, it is the judge’s job to reach conclusions. It is your job to give the judge facts, details, dates, description of events, etc. so that the judge can reach the conclusion that is most favorable to you. In your declaration, you must answer the question about why the judge should grant the orders you are requesting. On the day of the hearing, you may not have time to tell the judge your whole story. So, all the facts and details you want the judge to consider should be stated in your declaration.

Your declaration may be up to 10 pages long, and must be doubled spaced using 12 point font. When writing or typing your declaration, keep in mind the judge will have to read this and refer to it at your hearing. Use descriptive headings for your paragraphs. This should tell the judge what the paragraph is about. You should start with the most important issue and the most recent event. When the judge is finished reading your declaration there should be no doubt about what you want, why you want it and why the judge should do what you want.

ATTACHING DOCUMENTS TO YOUR DECLARATION - EXHIBITS

Exhibits are documents that support something you are saying in your declaration. If you believe there are documents the judge should read, you may attach them to your declaration. You must properly describe the document in your declaration by stating what the document is, what exhibit number you have assigned it and why the document is important for the judge to consider. Your exhibit number will start with P if you are the Petitioner and R if you are the Respondent.

If you previously filed exhibits then start with the number following your last exhibit. For example:

Attached as Exhibit P1 is a true and correct copy of my paystubs for the last 3 months which show that my gross monthly income is $1550.

WHAT ORDERS CAN YOU REQUEST?

Legal Custody: Legal custody deals with the parents' right to make the decisions relating to the child's health, education, and welfare. One or both parents can have legal custody. If both parents are making decisions about the child, it is called joint legal custody. When writing your declaration, you need to explain why it is in the child's best interest for one or both parents to make these decisions.

Physical Custody: Physical custody deals with the days and times that the child will spend with each parent. If the child primarily lives with one parent, it is called physical custody. If you are requesting that both parents spend a substantial period of time with the child, it is called Joint Physical Custody. When writing your declaration, you need to explain why your proposed physical custody request is in the child's best interest.

Visitation: Visitation is the time that the child spends with the parent who does not primarily live with. When writing your declaration, you need to explain why your proposed visitation schedule is in the child's best interest. There are several options to choose from when it comes to visitation, generally they are: (1) Reasonable Visitation (2) Specific Visitation Schedule (3) Supervised Visitation. Reasonable visitation does not define the days and times that each parent will have physical custody of the child. A reasonable visitation court order usually works when both parents agree about the time share that each is to have with the child. A specific visitation schedule defines the days and times that each parent will have physical custody of the child. A specific visitation schedule may be necessary for parents who have a difficult time agreeing on the days and times that each parent will spend with the child. Supervised Visitation requires that a responsible adult be present during any visitation times with the child. A supervised visitation order may be necessary if there are reasonable concerns that a parent may harm the child if left alone.

Prevent Child Abduction: If there are facts that show that the other parent may be thinking of taking the child and hiding the child from you, then you may request orders to prevent the other parent from abducting the child. When writing your declaration, you need to explain what the other party has done or plans to do to take and hide the child from you.

Child Support: Both parents are required to financially support the minor child. Child support is the amount of money that one parent pays to the other to equalize the financial responsibility. The amount of child support is arrived by inputting several numbers into a formula. The main factors that are taken into consideration are: (1) Dad's gross monthly income (2) Mom's gross monthly income and (3) Percentage of time that is spent with the child. When writing your declaration, you must address each of these factors. The judge needs to know each of these numbers and how you arrived at these numbers. Other facts that may be discussed in your declaration are: (1) the other parent's ability to earn income, (2) the number of other biological children living with you (3) the amount of childcare costs per month (4) the amount of rental income received (5) the amount of property taxes and mortgage interest paid per month and (6) the amount paid per month for health insurance premiums. You may attach any supporting documentation to your declaration as exhibits. Be prepared for what the amount of child support might be. Before you file your Request for Order, the Self-Help Center / Family Law Facilitator may help you calculate the amount of child support or you may go to <https://childsupport.ca.gov/guideline-calculator/> to calculate the child support amount on your own.

Spousal Support (formerly known as "alimony"): The judge has discretion to order the payment of spousal support. The judge will consider several factors before deciding whether to award spousal support, the amount of spousal support and the length of time that spousal support will be received. Some of the factors the judge will consider are: (1) Spouse's ability to pay spousal support (2) Other spouse's need to receive spousal support and (3) Standard of living during your marriage. When writing your declaration, you must address each of these factors. The judge needs to know what you think your spouse's income is and how you arrived at that number. In addition, your declaration must give details that describe your standard of living during the marriage which may include the number and kinds of vacations you took together, the kind of home you lived in, the kind of cars you owned, etc. Other factors that you may include in your declaration are the following: (1) Length of marriage (2) Age and health of each spouse (3) How much income each spouse can earn on their own (4) What the expenses of each spouse are (5) The history of the way the couple handled money during the marriage (6) Whether having a job would make it too hard to take care of the children (7) Whether one spouse helped the other get an education, training, career, or professional license (8) Whether there was domestic violence in the marriage or domestic partnership and (9) Whether one spouse's career was affected by unemployment, or by taking care of the children or home.

Attorney's Fees and Costs: You may request that the other party pay for your attorney's fees and costs. The judge has discretion to grant or deny this request. When writing your declaration, you must establish in sufficient detail that the other party has the financial ability to pay your attorney's fees and costs.

Property Restraint: You may request that the other party be prohibited from cashing out 401K's, checking accounts, savings accounts, etc. When writing your declaration, you must describe why this order is necessary.

Property Control: You may request an order giving you permission to use a car or live in the house. Your declaration must describe why this order is necessary.

Other Relief: You may request any other relief not already covered. For example, you may request to (1) set aside default (2) change venue (3) reimbursement of half of uninsured health care expenses. Your declaration must describe why this order is necessary.

SHORT TITLE: - Sample and Sample	CASE NUMBER: FL070572
-------------------------------------	--------------------------

ATTACHMENT (Number): FL-300 (10)
(This Attachment may be used with any Judicial Council form.)

BRIEF SUMMARY:

1. I request that the Court grant me sole legal and sole physical custody of our minor child, Chad Sample, who is 2 years old. I also request that Respondent be awarded supervised visitation with the minor child. Respondent and I have been separated for about six months. Although we do not have any court orders at this time, I have been our child's primary caretaker since our separation. The Respondent has spent about 3 days per month with our child since our separation.

EX PARTE (EMERGENCY) REQUEST FOR CUSTODY AND VISITATION ORDERS:

2. On or about 3/5/07, the Respondent threatened to take our minor child from me. He told me that he was going to take Chad to Nevada where I will never see my kids again. The Respondent has family and friends in Nevada who will help him hide the child from me.

3. The Respondent recently quit his job working at Albertson's. It is my belief that he is extremely upset that the Department of Child Support Services has filed a case against him for the payment of child support.

4. The Respondent has a severe drinking problem. He was convicted of drunk driving last year and he is still drinking heavily. The last 2 times he spoke to me, I could tell that he had been drinking. He has poor judgement when he is drinking and he cannot care for our child properly. For example, on or about 2/28/07 the Respondent drove to my house with our minor child to drop him off after his visitation and I could smell alcohol on his breath.

5. Our son was born with a rare skin condition that requires him to take special medications. Our son's medical condition has required that I administered necessary medications. It is my belief that the Respondent does not know the names of the medications or how often our son needs the medications. If Respondent were to take our child out of state without my consent I fear that our son's health will be at risk.

LEGAL CUSTODY:

6. In addition to the above mentioned reasons, I request that I be granted sole legal custody of our minor child. Since the birth of our son, I have taken our son to all of his doctor's appointments. His condition has somewhat stabilized recently, however for the last 20 months our son has had approximately 50 doctor's appointments. Although, I inform the Respondent of all upcoming doctor's appointments, he has not been present to any of these appointments and he also has not offered to take our son to any of these appointments.

7. After our son was born, I took on the responsibility of finding quality day-care for our son. I interviewed numerous persons and agencies and offered to give this information to the Respondent, however he was not interested in it and told me to make the decision.

PHYSICAL CUSTODY:

8. I am our son's primary caretaker. I have provided a stable and loving environment for him since the day he was born. On weekends, our son and I have daily outings to the beach, park or library. We also spend lots of time visiting friends and family. During the week, I drop off and pick up our son from day-care. Some of our daily activities include reading to him before bed, eating a home cooked meal, and playing games. Our son is well adjusted and gets along well with the other children in his day-care.

SUPERVISED VISITATION:

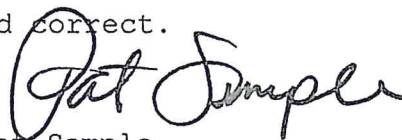

9. At this time, supervised visitation would be in our child's best interest because the Respondent may flee the State of California with the minor child. The Respondent may also harm the child by not knowing what medications he needs to take and by driving with my child while under the influence of alcohol.

10. In addition to being convicted of drunk driving last year, the Respondent also has a violent temper and has become physically abusive to his family and friends. I have also heard him yell at our child for no reason and causing our child to cry and become frightened. For all of the foregoing reasons, I respectfully request that the Court grant me sole legal and sole physical custody and supervised visitation for the Respondent.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct.
